

Amanda Liscouski

Amanda began her dance training at the Loudoun School of Ballet in Leesburg, Virginia. She also studied at the Russell School of Ballet in Fairfax, Virginia, the Joffrey School of Ballet in New York City and Rhythm Street in Herndon, Virginia. She is a graduate of Stone Bridge High School and Northern Virginia Community College, where she studied modern dance.

Miss Liscouski has taught children and teens in ballet, jazz and lyrical at the Creative Dance Center in Ashburn, Virginia since 2003 and also taught adult dance-fitness classes at DivaFit in Ashburn. She has been a substitute teacher for the Loudoun County Public Schools, working with special needs children.

Amanda joined Balletschool in the fall of 2007. She teaches Dance Discovery, RAD Primary, RAD Ballet I, II, III, Royal, Burgundy and Teen's Ballet. Additionally, she teaches tap, jazz and lyrical

