

KRISTINA YOWELL PITTS

Kristina Yowell Pitts is a native of Albemarle County, Virginia who has been dancing since early childhood studying at local dance schools. She attended Shenandoah University on a dance scholarship where she graduated with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Dance Performance. While at SU, she attended numerous dance festivals including: The American College Dance Festival at Hollins College, Boston University and James Madison University. Krissy has also studied with many renowned dance instructors at the The Bates Dance Festival in Lewiston, Maine during a 6 week intensive workshop. Miss Krissy performed with the Shenandoah Dance Ensemble, touring throughout the states of VA, MD, WV and the DC area. She was selected to perform in a Choreographer's Showcase with other dancers which received National Honors. The showcase was a gala concert of dances selected for their choreographic excellence by a panel of internationally recognized dance professionals - Mark Haim and Bebe Miller.

As a teenager, Krissy was crowned "Miss Albemarle" and has been performing and choreographing for the annual pageant ever since.

Since graduating, Krissy has been performing in the Charlottesville area with the Balletschool and the Miki Liszt Dance Company. This will be Krissy's 9th year teaching jazz, tap, modern and ballet classes at the Balletschool. When not teaching or tending to her family, she works for the Crutchfield Corporation in the Web Sales department.
