

Lynette Winters

Lynette Winters, originally from Philadelphia, PA, began ballet at the age of 4. Her childhood teachers, Edmund Novak and Irina Kovalska, were former principal dancers of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

Lynette danced major roles in student productions of The Nutcracker, Paquita, Don Quixote, La Esmeralda and Coppelia.

Miss Lynette holds a Bachelor's Degree from Goucher College, where she danced in works by faculty, students and guest choreographers. She also performed with Choreographie Antique, Goucher's historical dance ensemble.

In the summer of 1999, Lynette traveled to Caracas, Venezuela to dance with Nina Novak, former prima ballerina with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo and her company, the Venezuelan Classical Ballet Company.

Lynette began teaching at Balletschool in the fall of 2002. In Charlottesville, Lynette has performed with the Miki Lizst Dance Company, the University of Virginia and Piedmont Virginia Community College.

Lynette holds a Masters Degree from UVA and is currently on staff in the Biology Department at Piedmont Virginia Community College.
